

CRIMINAL LAW AND PROCEDURE

Police Offences Proclamation 27 of 1920

Summary: This Proclamation (OG 33) criminalises a miscellany of activities, primarily nuisances such as littering and swearing. One of the provisions cited in post-independence cases (section 9(1) makes it a crime to possess housebreaking implements without lawful excuse.

Amendments: This Proclamation is amended by Ord. 3/1962 (OG 2390), Ord. 15/1962 (OG 2409), the RSA Prohibition of Disguises Act 16 of 1969 (RSA GG 2316) and Act 21/1980 (OG 4310).

The Proclamation was applied to the Rehoboth Gebiet in modified form by Proc. 5/1937 (OG 702).

Regulations: The Proclamation makes no provision for regulations.

Cases: S v Boois; S v Thomas 1991 NR 455 (HC) (accused found not guilty of charge of riotous behaviour under this Proclamation); S v Kamudulunge 2007 (2) NR 608 (HC) (competent sentence for contravention of section 9(1)); S v Nangaku & Another 2014 (2) NR 369 (HC) (competent sentence for contravention of section 9(1)).

Finance and Audit Ordinance 1 of 1926, section 24D

Summary: Only section 24D of this Ordinance (OG 208) remains in force. This section provides that the government may pay a reward to informers whose information assists in law enforcement relating to illegal dealing in precious stones or metals. The section in question was inserted by Ord. 42 of 1952, where it was originally numbered 24*bis*. It was amended and renumbered as 24D by Ord. 28/1969 (OG 3011). The Ordinance was extended to the Rehoboth Gebiet by Proc. 12/1930 (OG 365).

Amendments: The State Finance Act 1 of 1982 (OG 4610) (which was repealed by the State Finance Act 31 of 1991 (GG 333)) repeals all of the Ordinance except sections 24D and 26A. The Tender Board of Namibia Act 16 of 1996 (GG 1380) repeals section 26A, leaving only section 24D in force.

Section 24D was inserted by Ord. 42/1952 (OG 1732), where it was originally numbered 24*bis*. It was amended and renumbered as 24D by Ord. 28/1969 (OG 3011).

Regulations: Section 24D makes no provision for regulations.

Witchcraft Suppression Proclamation 27 of 1933

Summary: This Proclamation (OG 538) attempts to suppress witchcraft by criminalising various activities.

Amendments: The Proclamation was extended to the Rehoboth Gebiet by Proc. 12/1936 (OG 668).

Regulations: The Proclamation makes no provision for regulations.

Cases: The reference to whipping in section 1 is invalidated by Ex Parte Attorney-General, Namibia: Re: Corporal Punishment by Organs of the State 1991 NR 178 (SC), even though this Proclamation is not specifically mentioned. That case made the following order: “It is declared that the imposition of any sentence by any judicial or quasi-judicial authority, authorising or directing any corporal punishment upon any person is unlawful and in conflict with Article 8 of the Namibian Constitution.”

Criminal Law Amendment Act 8 of 1953, as amended in South Africa to November 1979

Summary: This Act (SA GG 5018; also published in OG 1750) provides special increased penalties for offences committed in the course of protests or campaigns against any law of the Republic. It is not included in the database of annotated statutes as it has been earmarked for repeal as an obsolete law by the Law Reform and Development Commission.³³

Applicability to SWA: This Act was not made specifically applicable to South West Africa. However, section 8 indicates that the Act, or at least that section of it, applied to South West Africa by providing special instructions for the removal of “undesirable inhabitants” from the Territory of South West Africa. However, the status of the remainder of the Act in SWA is uncertain.

Transfer of administration to SWA: The administration of this Act was transferred to SWA by the Executive Powers (Justice) Transfer Proclamation (AG 33/1979), dated 12 November 1979, as amended. There were no amendments to the Act in South Africa after the date of transfer. The Act was repealed in South Africa by section 73 of the Internal Security Act 74 of 1982, which was not applicable to South West Africa.

Amendments: The Second Law Amendment (Abolition of Discriminatory or Restrictive Laws for the Purposes of Free and Fair Election) Proclamation (AG 25/1989) (OG 5758) repeals sections 8 and 9 of this Act.

Regulations: The Act makes no provision for regulations.

Cases: Ex Parte Attorney-General, Namibia: In Re Corporal Punishment by Organs of State, 1991 NR 178 (SC) (references to whipping in sections 1 and 2 unconstitutional).

General Law Amendment Ordinance 12 of 1956, sections 6-8

Summary: Sections 6-8 of this Ordinance (OG 2018) deal with stolen goods. (Section 4 of this Ordinance is discussed under ARMS AND AMMUNITION, and section 5 is discussed under INHERITANCE.)

Amendments: This portion of the Act is amended by Ord. 36/1965 (OG 2642).

Regulations: There is no provision for regulations in these sections.

Riotous Assemblies Act 17 of 1956, sections 16-18 and 19A-21, as amended in South Africa to November 1979

Summary: Most of this Act (SA GG 5651) was repealed in respect of South West Africa. The remaining sections address power to regulate the transportation of explosives and the criminal offences of incitement to public violence, conspiracy, attempted crimes, and inducement to commit crimes.

Applicability to SWA: Section 19A, inserted by Act 79 of 1976, with effect from 16 June 1976, states “This Act and any amendment thereof shall apply also in the territory of South West Africa, including the Eastern Caprivi Zipfel.”

Transfer of administration to SWA: The administration of this Act was transferred to SWA by the Executive Powers (Justice) Transfer Proclamation (AG 33/1979), dated 12 November 1979, as amended.

After the date of transfer, much of the Act was repealed by the Intimidation Act 72 of 1982, which was made applicable to SWA by virtue of the Security Matters Proclamation, AG 29 of 1985 (OG 5059). Other portions of the Act were repealed in South Africa by the Internal Security Act 74 of 1982 (RSA GG 8232), which was not applicable to SWA. Therefore the Act applied to South West Africa as it stood after Act 72 of 1982, but before Act 74 of 1982.

In support of this interpretation, see Mweuhanga v Administrator-General of South West Africa & Others 1990 (2) SA 776 (A):

On appeal before us Mr. Gauntlett, for the appellant, accepted the Court’s finding that section 29 of the General Law Amendment Act [101 of 1969] applied in South West Africa, but that the Internal Security Act [74 of 1982] did not. I agree with this. Section 29(3) of the General Law Amendment Act specifically provides that the provisions of section 29 and any amendment thereof apply also in the territory of South West Africa. No corresponding provision is found in the Internal Security Act. And it is noteworthy that sub-sections 66(1) and (2) of the Internal Security Act correspond almost word for word with sub-sections 29(1) and (2) of the General Law Amendment Act (as substituted by section 25 of the General Law Amendment Act, no. 102 of 1972) save that the latter contain a reference to South West Africa whereas the former do not. The meaning and effect of this reference will be considered later, but its absence from section 66 of the Internal Security Act is a further indication that the latter act was not intended to apply in South West Africa.

Section 3(1)(f) of the transfer proclamation excluded the term “Republic” from the provisions of section 3(1)(c) of the General Proclamation except where it occurs for the second and third times in section 5 of the Act. Thus, in the remainder of the Act, “Republic” continued to refer only to South Africa even after the transfer.

Amendments: The following pre-independence South African amendments were applicable to SWA –

- Unlawful Organisations Act 34 of 1960 (SA GG 6413)
- General Law Amendment Act 39 of 1961 (SA GG 6692)
- General Law Amendment Act 76 of 1962 (RSA GG 273)
- Riotous Assemblies Amendment Act 30 of 1974 (RSA GG 3221).

However, the first three of these four amending Acts applied only to sections of the Act that have since been repealed. The Act was further amended and made applicable to SWA by the Internal Security Amendment Act 79 of 1976 (RSA GG 5159).

The Riotous Assemblies Amendment Proclamation (AG 10/1977) (OG 3665) repeals sections 4 and 19 and amends sections 1, 2, 3 and 7 (all now repealed).

After the date of transfer, the Act was amended by the Intimidation Act 72 of 1982, which was made applicable to SWA by virtue of the Security Matters Proclamation, AG 29 of 1985 (OG 5059) and which repealed sections 10-15.

The First Law Amendment (Abolition of Discriminatory or Restrictive Laws for the Purposes of Free and Fair Election) Proclamation (AG 14/1989) (OG 5726) repeals sections 2, 6 and 7(1)(a), amends section 4 (which had already been repealed by AG 10/1977) (OG 3665), and amends sections 5 and 7(1)(b) (both now repealed).

The Public Gatherings Proclamation (AG 23/1989) (OG 5756) repeals sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 8 and 9.

Thus, the only remaining sections of the Act are sections 16, 17, 18, 19A, 20 and 21.

Regulations: There is no provision for regulations in the sections of the Act that remain in force.

Cases: S v Campbell & Others 1990 NR 310 (HC); Awaseb, Geinub, Lange v S, High Court, Case No. CA 46/2003 (unreported).

General Law Amendment Ordinance 13 of 1962, section 9

Summary: Section 9 of this Ordinance (OG 2409) sets forth the criminal offences of attempt, conspiracy and inducing another to commit an offence.

Regulations: There is no provision in this section for regulations.

Criminal Procedure Ordinance 34 of 1963, sections 300(3) and 370

Summary: Only sections 300(3) and 370 of this Ordinance (OG 2504) are still in force. Section 300(3) concerns the criminal offence of perjury. Section 370 deals with peace bonds. (These sections are the South West African counterparts of sections 319(3) and 384 of the Criminal Procedure Act 56 of 1955 which applied to South Africa.) The other sections of the Ordinance have been repealed by the Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977.

Regulations: There is no provision for regulations in the surviving sections.

Cases: S v Somses 1999 NR 296 (HC) (section 300(3)); S. v Gariseb 2002 NR 112 (HC) (section 300(3)).

Prohibition of Disguises Act 16 of 1969, as amended in South Africa prior to Namibian independence

Summary: This Act (RSA GG 2316) sets forth penalties for being in disguise in suspicious circumstances.

Applicability to SWA: Section 3 states “This Act and any amendment thereof which may be made from time to time, shall apply also in the territory of South West Africa, including that part of the said territory known as the Eastern Caprivi Zipfel and defined in the Eastern Caprivi Zipfel Administration Proclamation, 1939 (Proclamation No. 147 of 1939 of the Republic).”

Transfer of administration to SWA: It is not clear what transfer proclamation, if any, applied to this Act. In any event, there were no amendments to the Act in South Africa prior to Namibian independence.

Regulations: The Act makes no provision for regulations.

Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977, as amended in South Africa to November 1979 .

Summary: This Act (RSA GG 5532) governs procedure in criminal proceedings. It was brought into force in both South Africa and South West Africa on 22 July 1977 by RSA Proc. R.148/1977 (RSA GG 5654). It was applied to Rehoboth insofar as it relates to matters which fell under the Legislative Authority of Rehoboth by the Criminal Procedure Act 3 of 1982 (Rehoboth) (Official Gazette 70 of Rehoboth, dated 11 March 1983).

The Act repeals the following law in respect of SWA:

- Fugitive Offenders and Neighbouring Territories Evidence Proclamation 26 of 1920 (OG 33), in so far as it relates to the attendance by witnesses of criminal proceedings in courts in the Republic
- Criminal Procedure and Evidence Proclamation 30 of 1935 (OG 649) in so far as it applies to the Eastern Caprivi Zipfel
- Criminal Procedure Ordinance 34 of 1963 (OG 2504) and its amendments, except sections 300(3) and 370 (see the listing above in this section).

The Criminal Procedure Ordinance 34 of 1963 had already repealed the Criminal Procedure and Evidence Proclamation 30 of 1935 in general (without reference to the Eastern Caprivi Zipfel) and the Special Justice of the Peace Proclamation 25 of 1921. The Criminal Procedure and Evidence Proclamation 30 of 1935 repealed the Criminal Procedure and Evidence Proclamation 20 of 1919 (OG 25).

Applicability to SWA: Section 1 defines “Republic” to include “the territory”, which is defined as “the territory of South West Africa”. “State”, in relation to a department of State, is defined to include “the Administration of the territory”. Section 343 states “This Act shall apply also in the territory, including the Eastern Caprivi Zipfel.”

The wording of section 343 did not make amendments to the Act in South Africa automatically applicable to SWA. None of the amendments to the Act in South Africa prior to Namibian independence were made expressly applicable to SWA, but they were probably applicable by virtue of the definition of “Republic” in section 1 of the Act where they were made prior to the date of transfer.

This would mean that the South African Criminal Procedure Matters Amendment Act 79 of 1978 (which was published and came into force on 2 June 1978 and amends section 185), and Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 56 of 1979 (which was published and came into force on 1 June 1979 and amends sections 50, 60, 75, 119, 121, 123, 124, 144, 170, 212, 217, 296, 300, 307 and Schedule 3, and inserts section 115A, Chapter 19A and section 219A) were applicable to SWA. Note that the South West African Criminal Procedure Matters Act 31 of 1985 refers to previous amendments by the Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 56 of 1979, lending further support to this conclusion.

Transfer of administration to SWA: The administration of this Act was transferred to SWA by the Executive Powers (Justice) Transfer Proclamation (AG 33/1979), dated 12 November 1979, as amended. Both of the amending Acts cited above came into force before this date.

Section 3(1)(t) of the transfer proclamation (as amended) excluded the following provisions of the principal Act from the operation of section 3(1) of the General Proclamation:

sections 77, 78 and 79 (except 79(11)): These provisions concern the capacity of the accused to understand proceedings, i.e. mental illness and criminal responsibility. (Section 79(11) concerns the tariff used to compensate a court psychiatrist. It is not excluded from the operation of section 3(1), meaning that here “Minister” was interpreted to mean Administrator-General.)

section 106(1)(e): Under this provision, an accused may plead that he has received a free pardon from the State President under section 327(b), which is similarly excluded from the operation of section 3(1).

section 111: This section allows the Minister to remove trials to the jurisdiction of another attorney-general.

section 279(1)(b), (2) and (3): These provisions deal with the commutation of death sentences by the State President.

section 323: This section concerns the ability of the Minister of Justice to refer a case where the death sentence has been imposed to the Appellate Division for consideration.

section 325: This section concerns the State President’s power to extend mercy to any person.

section 327: This section concerns the State President’s power to issue a pardon or substitute a verdict of the court.

section 333: Under this provision, the Minister of Justice may refer questions to the Appellate Division on a question of law.

These powers were not transferred to the Administrator-General.

Section 3(1)(t) of the transfer proclamation also exempted the following sections from the operation of section 3(1)(c) of the General Proclamation (concerning the interpretation of the term “Republic”):

section 3: This section establishes the Attorney-General as the prosecuting authority for the State.

section 212(4)(a): This section deals with proof of certain facts by affidavit or certificate.

section 229: This section deals with evidence of times of sunrise and sunset. (“Republic” is excluded from the operation of section 3(1)(c) only the first time it occurs here.)

section 328: This section concerns the enforceability of warrants, subpoenas, summons, etc. executed within the Republic.

Thus, “Republic” in the indicated places in these provisions retained the meaning it was given in the definition section of the Act (South Africa and SWA).

Section 3(1)(t) of the transfer proclamation also excluded from the operation of section 3(1) of the General Proclamation all references to the “State,” in relation to the authority to institute and conduct a prosecution and to make seizures.

Section 3(2)(b) of the transfer proclamation provides that the reference to the State President in section 117 of the Act “shall be construed as including a reference to the Administrator-General”.

Section 1(2) of AG Proc. 24/1983 (OG 4854), which amends the transfer proclamation, states: “In the application of the provisions of the Executive Powers Transfer (General Provisions) Proclamation, 1977 (Proclamation AG. 7 of 1977) (hereinafter referred to as the General Proclamation), in respect of section 3 of the Criminal Procedure Act, 1977 (Act 51 of 1977), this proclamation shall be deemed to be a transfer proclamation as defined in section 1 of the General Proclamation, and the reference in section 5 of the General Proclamation to a law referred to in section 2 of that Proclamation, shall be construed as a reference to section 3 of the said Criminal Procedure Act, 1977.”

Section 2 of AG Proc. 24/1983 (OG 4854) states: “In the application of the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Act, 1977 (Act 51 of 1977), section 3 thereof shall be deemed to be amended by the substitution for the words “public service”, wherever they occur, of the expression “government service mentioned in section 2 of the Government Service Act, 1980 (Act 2 of 1980).”

None of the amendments to the Act in South Africa after the date of transfer were made expressly applicable to SWA.

Assignment of powers: GN 55/1987 (OG 5348) contains an assignment of powers in the Act to the Minister of Justice –

Sections 3(4), 70, 79(11)(b), 145(5), 148(3)(c) and 233(2) of the Criminal Procedure Act, 1977 (Act 51 of 1977).

Amendments: The following pre-independence South African amendments were applicable to SWA –

- Criminal Procedure Matters Amendment Act 79 of 1978 (RSA GG 6041)
- Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 56 of 1979 (RSA GG 6476)

The Native Laws Amendment Proclamation, AG 3 of 1979 (OG 3898), deemed to have come into force in relevant part on 1 August 1978, amends certain terminology.

The Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 15 of 1981 (OG 4566), which is brought into force by AG 31/1981 (OG 4577), amends sections 114 and 116.

The Appeals Amendment Act 29 of 1985 (OG 5149), which is brought into force by AG 19/1986 (OG 5182), amends sections 315-319 and 323.

The Criminal Procedure Matters Act 31 of 1985 (OG 5151), amends the Act substantially (affecting sections 24, 37, 42, 55, 56, 57, 60, 68A, 112, 119, 121, 145, 146, 169, 170, 188, 262, 296, 297, 300, 302, 307, Schedule 2 (Part II)).

The Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 5 of 1991 (GG 215) amends several provisions relating to bail (sections 59, 60, 61, 68, 72, 307 and Schedule 2).

The Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 26 of 1993 (GG 755) amends the Act to allow appeals by either party to the High Court and the Supreme Court (sections 310, 311, 316, 316A, 320, 321, 322).

The Combating of Rape Act 8 of 2000 (GG 2326), which was brought into force on 15 June 2000 (GN 140/2000, GG 2348), amends sections 1, 62, 153, 154 and 227 of the Act, and inserts sections 60A, 211A and 227A.

The International Co-operation in Criminal Matters Act 9 of 2000 (GG 2327), brought into force on 15 September 2001 by GN 185/2001 (GG 2614), amends section 171 and substitutes sections 172 and 173.

Note that there are two versions of GG 2327. The correct one states at the top: “This Gazette replaces previous Gazette No. 2327.”

The Appeal Laws Amendment Act 10 of 2001 (GG 2585) substitutes section 315 and amends section 316.

The Combating of Domestic Violence Act 4 of 2003 (GG 3002), which was brought into force on 17 November 2003 by GN 234/2003 (GG 3094), amends sections 60A, 62 and 153.

The Maintenance Act 9 of 2003 (GG 3043), which was brought into force on 17 November 2003 by GN 232/2003 (GG 3093), amends section 195.

The Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 24 of 2003 (GG 3123) inserts sections 158A and 216A and amends sections 164, 166 and 212 (dealing with vulnerable witnesses and related matters).

The Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 13 of 2010 (GG 4554) amends sections 55-57, 72, 74 112, 170 and Schedule 2, substitutes section 185 and 338, and inserts section 57A.

The Act is amended with respect to the use of various terms and cross-references by the Correctional Service Act 9 of 2012 (GG 5008), which was brought into force on 1 January 2014 by GN 330/2013

\(GG 5365\).

Note: S v Malumo & Others 2010 (1) NR 35 (HC) states the following at para 2 in respect of section 217(1)(a): “[NB: Para (a) has been substituted by s 11 of the Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 86 of 1996, a provision which will be put into operation by proclamation.]” However, there was no such amending Act in Namibia. It appears that the quoted provision erroneously refers to the South African version of the Criminal Procedure Act, as there is a Criminal Procedure Amendment Act 86 of 1996 in South Africa which substitutes section 217(1)(a) in the South African Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977.

The Child Care and Protection Act 3 of 2015 (GG 5744), which was brought into force on 30 January 2019 by GN 4/2019 (GG 6829), amends section 1 (to add a definition of “probation officer”), repeals sections 292, 293 and 294 and removes the words “or a whipping” from section 290(2).

The Witness Protection Act 11 of 2017 (GG 6451), which is not yet in force, amends section 158A and repeals section 185.

Note that Article 141(2) of the Namibian Constitution provides: “Any reference to the Attorney-General in legislation in force immediately prior to the date of Independence shall be deemed to be a reference to the Prosecutor-General, who shall exercise his or her functions in accordance with this Constitution.”

Savings: Section 344(2) of the Act contains a savings clause:

Any regulation, rule, notice, approval, authority, return, certificate, document, direction or appointment made, issued, given or granted, and any other act done under any provision of any law repealed by this Act shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (3), be deemed to have been made, issued, given, granted or done under the corresponding provisions of this Act.

The repealed Criminal Procedure Ordinance 34 of 1963 (OG 2504) also contained a savings clause in section 377(2):

Any proclamation, regulation, notice, approval, authority, return certificate or document issued, made, promulgated, given or granted and any other action taken under any provision of a law repealed by subsection (1), shall be deemed to have been issued, made, promulgated, given, granted or taken under the corresponding provision of this Act.

The repealed Criminal Procedure and Evidence Proclamation 30 of 1935 (OG 649) contained a savings clause in section 213(4) in respect of the Criminal Procedure and Evidence Proclamation 20 of 1919 (OG 25), which it repealed:

The tariffs in force in the Territory at the commencement of this Proclamation shall, however, continued [sic] to be in force, until they are repealed, or any new tariff is prescribed under this section.

This reference to tariffs concerns witness tariffs. However, subsequent enactments on payments to witnesses have been issued, which makes this savings clause irrelevant at this stage.

Regulations: Regulations are authorised under the current Act by sections 185(3), 191(3) and 212(7A)(b).

Pre-independence regulations on allowances payable to witnesses in criminal cases, made in terms of section 191(3) of the current Act, are contained in RSA GN R.653/1980 (RSA GG 6896), as amended with effect from 1 April 1987 by SWA GN 34/1987 (OG 5330). These 1980 RSA regulations were enacted after the date of transfer (12 November 1979), but they explicitly state that they were made with the consent of the Administrator-General of SWA and shall also apply in SWA.

No other regulations which could be applicable to Namibia by virtue of the chain of savings clauses have been located. The only other pre-independence regulations located were made under the SA Criminal Procedure Act 56 of 1955, which was never applicable to SWA, and are thus irrelevant to Namibia.

No regulations have been issued under this Act since independence.

Rules: Rules made in terms of section 376(1) of the Criminal Procedure Ordinance 34 of 1963 (OG 2504)³⁴ are contained in GN 133/1965 (OG 2651), as corrected by GN 167/1965 (OG 2658). These rules appear to survive in terms of the chain of savings clauses. They are not included in the database, which currently covers only regulations, and not rules.

Peace officers: Persons are declared to be peace officers in RSA GN R.159/1979 (RSA GG 6295), AG GN 85/1989 (OG 2530), GN 92/2001 (GG 2530) – which is amended by GN 241/2003 (GG 3102) – and GN 74/2003 (GG 2946).³⁵

Other notices: Compensation payable to assessors who are not in the full-time employment of the State is set by GN 271/2019 (GG 7001).

Fees: As noted above, a tariff of allowances payable to witnesses in criminal cases, in the form of regulations made in terms of section 191(3) of the Act, is contained in RSA GN R.653/1980 (RSA GG 6896), as amended with effect from April 1987 by SWA GN 34/1987 (OG 5330).³⁶

Fees payable to psychiatrists in terms of section 79(11) of the Act are contained in RSA GN R.1315/1980 (RSA GG 7097), as amended with effect from April 1987 by SWA GN 35/1987 (OG 5330).

These 1980 RSA notices on tariffs were enacted after the date of transfer (12 November 1979), but both explicitly state that they were made with the consent of the Administrator-General of SWA and shall also apply in SWA.

Application of law: The Police Amendment Proclamation (AG 21/1983) affects the application of section 20.

The Executive Powers (Justice) Transfer Proclamation (AG 33/1979), dated 12 November 1979, as amended by AG 24/1983, affects the application of section 3.

Section 4 of the Protection of Fundamental Rights Act 16 of 1988 provides that the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977 shall apply in relation to the entering and searching of premises or the search, arrest and detention of persons under that section, and that any member of the South African Defence Force will be considered a peace officer under the Criminal Procedure Act for that purpose.

³⁵ AG 85/1989 (OG 5818) also contains a declaration of peace officers, but only with reference to an Act that is no longer in force (Conditions of Employment Act 12 of 1986).

³⁶ In South Africa, RSA GN R.653/1980 was repealed prior to Namibian independence by RSA GN R.526/1986 (RSA GG 10152), but this enactment was not made applicable to South West Africa.

The Act is also substantially amended by Act 20/2018 (GG 6811). Amongst other things, these amendments provide for a Central Authority to make and receive requests for assistance.

Regulations: Regulations for International Co-operation in Criminal Matters are contained in GN 186/2001 (GG 2614).

Anti-Corruption Act 8 of 2003

Summary: This Act (GG 3037) establishes an Anti-Corruption Commission and provides for the prevention and punishment of corruption. Amendments: The Act is amended by Act 10/2016 (GG 6156), which substitutes sections 11 and 12 and substitutes “Director-General” for “Director” and “Deputy Director-General” for “Deputy Director” throughout. Regulations: Regulations are authorised by section 30 of the Act, but none have been promulgated. There is no savings provision for regulations made under the repealed Ordinance.

S v Goabab & Another 2013 (3) 603 (SC) (following on striking down of definition of “corruptly” in section 32 on Constitutional grounds, encourages judicial development and finds that term “corruption” at its lowest threshold in the context of the public service includes “abuse of a public office or position (including the powers and resources associated with it) for personal gain” and that synonyms of “corruptly” include “immorally, wickedly, dissolutely and dishonestly”)

Hailulu v Director of the Anti-Corruption Commission & Others 2014 (1) NR 62 (HC) (sections 18, 43(1) and 28); confirmed on appeal in Hailulu v Director, Anti-Corruption Commission & Others 2016 (1) NR 1110 (SC) (section 18 and relationship between Commission and Prosecutor-General)

The fact that appellant has not succeeded in this appeal should not obscure the fact that it is a cause for grave concern that the Commission was found by the High Court to have advanced the cause of the Union and its members in effecting the arrest of appellant. Such conduct is deplorable and appellant is entitled to feel aggrieved by it. The Commission is established as an independent and impartial institution to prevent and punish corruption. It is an institution of national importance pursuing a goal that is central to the wellbeing of Namibia’s democracy. Its conduct must be beyond reproach. The achievement of the Commission’s goal will be imperilled if its reputation is tarnished as it has been in this case by its unlawful conduct. Appellant may of course choose to pursue civil remedies against the Commission. Such remedies, however, even if successful, will not repair the Commission’s reputation. Its reputation will only be repaired if the Commission by its conduct and the conduct of its officials demonstrates unwaveringly that it must and will always act in a manner that is independent, impartial and lawful. (para 65)

S v Lameck & Others 2017 (3) NR 637 (SC) (discussion of section 21(5) read with 26(1)(d), and sections 22(4) and 27, in context of appeal on issue of recusal)

New Force Logistics CC v Anti-Corruption Commission 2018(2) NR 375 (HC) (section 23: evidence on the application of this section must come from the officers who actually carried out the search; section 25)

[58] ... [T]he Constitution of this Republic grants suspects and accused persons certain pre and trial rights, which include the presumption of innocence, right against self-incrimination and kindred rights and freedoms. More importantly, the Legislature has, in the Anti-Corruption Act and other kindred pieces of legislation, which seem to bear on human rights and freedoms, sought to strike a balance that ensures that fundamental rights, even in the face of accusations of commission of serious crimes, are maintained and observed.

[59] It is in this regard that for instance, rights to search, seize and attach property have been subjected to stringent safeguards, including the issuance of warrants and where circumstances so demand, the carrying out of those necessary actions without a warrant, but under extreme safeguards, that seek to balance the interests of the society in arresting and dealing with crime and the rights of an individual to be treated fairly and in a just manner.

[60] It would be a sad day in this Republic, if the courts, because of the undeniable need to arrest the ubiquitous incidence of serious crime, including corruption, would close their eyes to the constitutional safe guards, thus sacrificing the rule of law and individual rights and freedoms guaranteed in the Constitution and the laws of this Republic, on the altar of bringing suspects to book, by hook or by crook. This great edifice, under which all persons in this great country seek and find refuge, might fall if that were to be the accepted approach.

[61] In this regard, the courts must hold the middle ground and ensure that where crime is suspected to have been committed, those suspected or implicated, are treated fairly and strictly in terms of the law. Where the functionaries responsible therefor fail or neglect to follow the dictates of the law that should ordinarily guide them in their actions, they should know and expect that the courts will not turn a blind eye and give priority to the arrest and prosecution of suspects, throwing the strict requirements of the law into the dustbin as it were. The courts cannot and should not be party to a law-breaking enterprise, even if it is perceived, in religious, political or social circles, to be for the common good. The end should never justify the means.

Atlantic Ocean Management Group (Pty) Ltd & Another v Prosecutor-General 2017 (4) NR 939 (HC), confirmed on appeal in Atlantic Ocean Management Group (Pty) Ltd v Prosecutor-General 2019 (4) NR 1031 (SC) ((1) There is a right to anticipate the hearing on an ex parte preservation order under s. 51 of the Act via rule 72(7) of the Rules of the High Court; Supreme Court notes at para 15: “The drafters of the regulations, it would appear were with respect careless in that they did not make a distinction in the applicability of the regulations between applications in terms of s 51(2) and s 91(2).” (2) In terms of s. 51 of the Act, the Prosecutor-General may make an ex parte application for a preservation of property order, but the court hearing the application in terms of s 51 is obliged to ensure that the proceedings before it are fair, with due regard to the principle of audi alteram partem:

- (i) It is now settled law that the High Court is authorised to grant preservation orders under s 51 without requiring that notice of the application be given to any person and if satisfied that the requisites set out in s 51(2)(a) and (b) have been met must grant a preservation order.
- (ii) This does not preclude the appellant from giving notice of such an application in appropriate instances to another party. The appellant is not obliged to bring an application under s 51 on an ex parte basis.
- (iii) The High Court is not precluded from granting a rule nisi in preservation of property orders under s 51 or there is in principle no procedural bar to a High Court hearing an application ex parte and in camera under s 51 of the Act and granting a rule nisi, together with an interim preservation and seizure order, pending the return day of the rule. In fact it is preferable for the High Court to grant a rule nisi when an application is brought ex parte so as to comply with the sacred audi alteram partem rule, one of the main pillars of art 12:
“The right to a fair hearing before a court lies at the heart of the rule of law. A fair hearing before a court as a prerequisite to an order being made against anyone is fundamental to a just and credible legal order It is a crucial aspect of the rule of law that court orders should not be made without affording the other side a reasonable opportunity to state their case. That reasonable opportunity can usually only be given by ensuring that reasonable steps are taken to bring the hearing to the attention of the person affected.” [quoting De Beer NO v North-Central Local Council and South-Central Local Council and Others (Umhlatuzana Civic Association Intervening) 2002 (1) SA 429 (CC) at para 11]
- (iv) Even if the High Court does not frame its order in the form of a rule nisi, an order granted ex parte is in any event provisional and subject to being set aside by a party on application against whom it was granted. A party is furthermore not confined to the narrow basis to rescind an order set out in s 58(6) when challenging an order granted ex parte against him or her and it may entail a reconsideration of the order given. (para 21).

(3) The permissibility of a subsequent application for a preservation order after the previous one lapses will depend on the circumstances of the case; not allowed here because Prosecutor-General should have acted immediately to cancel the first preservation order upon discovering that the determination relied upon. (Determination No 3 of 2016 issued under the Financial Intelligence Act 13 of 2012) had not at that stage been published in the Government Gazette and that the account in question was not actually blocked in terms of s 42 of the Financial Intelligence Act 13 of 2012 as the court believed.)

7 of the Prevention of Organised Crime Regulations and Rule 79(2) of the High Court Rules; discussion of evidence required to establish that property is an “instrumentality of an offence” or “proceeds of unlawful activities”; (2) strict compliance with the provisions of chapters 5 and 6 of the Act is required, particularly where the word “must” is used, as in sections 52(1) and (2), 53(3) and 59(1)-(3), but failure to comply strictly with the rules on service of notice in section 59(3) is condoned in this case)

S v Henock & Others (CR 86/2019) [2019] NAHCMD 466 (11 November 2019) (Since the statute does not limit its application to serious predicate offences, the discretion on whether or not to charge under POCA lies with the Prosecutor-General; a person who has committed a predicate offence can also commit money-laundering under section 4 in connection with the proceeds of the unlawful activities; section 6 only applies to a person other than the person who committed the predicate offence, and prosecution of the same person under both the predicate offence and the money-laundering offence would constitute a duplication of convictions.)

Whistleblower Protection Act 10 of 2017

Summary: This Act (GG 6450) is aimed at the protection of persons who report information to officials on improper conduct, which includes amongst other things: criminal activities; violation of the fundamental rights and freedoms protected by the Namibian Constitution; failure to comply with any law; waste, misappropriation or mismanagement of resources which affects the public interest; environmental degradation; endangerment of the health and safety of an individual or community; or the deliberate concealment of such matters. The Act establishes a Whistleblower Protection Office to investigate whistleblower disclosures and complaints of detrimental action taken against the whistleblower or someone related to or associated with the whistleblower. It also provides for a Whistleblower Protection Review Tribunal which reviews decisions of the Whistleblower Protection Office and is empowered to make determinations on whether detrimental action has been taken against a whistleblower and if so, to provide appropriate remedies. The Act will come into force on a date set by the Minister in the Government Gazette.

Regulations: Regulations are authorised by section 78 of the Act, but none have been issued as yet.
