Adverteer

1. Inleiding: Gesonde onderlinge verhoudings tussen dieetkundiges as kollegas is noodsaklik vir die bevordering van die openbare aansien en betrouwbaarheid van die beroep en dus van dieetkundiges self. Handeling waardeur 'n dieetkundige homself direk vir eie gewin by die publiek bekendmaak of waardeur hy die aansien van 'n kollega (of ander geregistreerde persoon) benadeel, is strydig met dié uitgangspunt en grondstelling. Die gehalte van 'n dieetkundige se dienslewering is tradisioneel die geregtigde middel waardeur professionele bekendheid verwerk kan word. Mededeling op medies-wetenskaplike gebied en die bekendmaking van persoonlike bevindings en menings behoort slegs in die professionele pers te geskied.

Die Beroepsraad en die Raad onderskryf die wenslikheid daarvan om die publiek in te lig oor aangeleenthede wat die breë belang dien, maar keur metodes af wat 'n dieetkundige aanwend met die doel om 'n bepaalde persoon, inrigting, middel of tegniek te adverteer. Verder word bepaal dat 'n dieetkundige wat toelaat dat sy professionele menings in die lekepers of oor die radio of beeldradio bekendgemaak of aan 'n lekeghoor geopenbaar word, persoonlik daarvoor verantwoordelik gehou sal word dat sodanige bekendmaking of openbaarmaking nie 'n advertensie uitmaak nie.

(1) Met die oog op sy (direkte of indirekte, onmiddellike of uiteindelike) professionele voordeel hom direk of indirek op enige wyse adverteer of die publieksie verkry, goedkeur of stilswyend toelaat van enigets wat 'n aanbeveling bevat van of die aandag vestig op sy professionele bekwaamheid, kennis, dienste of kwalifikasies. Die volgende handelinge word nie as sodanige advertensie beskou nie:

(a) Adverteer in die erkende mediese, dieetkundige, voedingkundige, tegnies en verplegingspublikasies;

(b) besoeke aflê by, of omsendbriewe rig aan of skryf aan geneeshere, geregistreerde professionele aanvullende gesondheidsdienspersoneel, geneeskundige inrigtings en hospitale;

Professions Act, 1974 (Act No. 56 of 1974), approved the rules made by the South African Medical and Dental Council under section 50 (1) of the Act set out in the Schedule hereto.

SCHEDULE

The following acts and omissions by the dietitian shall constitute acts and omissions in respect of which disciplinary steps may be taken by the Professional Board for Dietetics (hereinafter referred to as the Professional Board) and the South African Medical and Dental Council (hereinafter referred to as the Council): Provided that—

(a) the said acts and omissions cannot be and are not intended to constitute a complete list of acts and omissions in respect of which the Professional Board and the Council may take disciplinary steps and that the Professional Board and the Council are empowered by section 48 of the Medical, Dental and Supplementary Health Service Professions Act, 1974, to inquire into and deal with any complaint, charge or allegation which may be brought before them;

(b) the Professional Board and the Council will ordinarily act only if a complaint, charge or allegation is laid before them.

Advertising

1. Introduction: Sound relations between dietitians as colleagues are essential for furthering the public esteem and trustworthiness of the profession and thus of the dietitians themselves. Acts by which a dietitian makes himself known for his own gain directly to the public or by which he prejudices the esteem of a colleague (or other registered person) are contrary to this premise and fundamental proposition: The quality of a dietitian's services is traditionally the justified means by which he can become professionally known. Competition in the medico-scientific field and the disclosure of personal findings and views should take place only in the professional press.

The Professional Board and Council endorse the desirability of informing the public of matters in the general interest, but disapprove of methods adopted by the dietitian aimed at advertising a particular person, institution, remedy or technique. It is laid down, furthermore, that a dietitian who allows his professional opinions to be divulged in the lay press or on the radio or television or to be disclosed to a lay assembly will personally be held responsible for such divulgence or disclosure not constituting advertising.

(1) Advertising himself directly or indirectly in any manner with a view to his (direct or indirect, immediate or eventual) professional gain or procuring, sanctioning or acquiescing in the publication of matter commending or directing attention to his professional skill, knowledge, services or qualifications.
